More About Us

Putting clients first

We expect our people to put the interests of our clients first: we invest in understanding client organisations, their operating context and the opportunities and challenges they face.

Creating the best team

We believe in the power of teams, rather than individuals: to secure successful outcomes, we bring together groups of people with just the right mix of sector, product and jurisdictional knowledge.

Giving product advice

We give practical advice: we draw on the huge range and depth of our expertise to develop commercial, effective solutions for clients.

Nurturing a culture with integrity and respect at its core

We are committed to nurturing a high performance culture founded on robust ethical standards, professional integrity, responsibility, accountability, inclusiveness and kindness. Our values-based Code of Conduct sets the standard for what we expect of ourselves and of each other.

Investing in the future

We invest for the future: we have always taken the view that we must invest today to build the firm our clients will need 15, 20 or more years into the future. As a result, our resources are world-class, whether our people, our know-how and our approach to client service. We aim to be the most reliable legal services provider across Africa.

Our approach to Responsible Business

As a regional firm we are rightly expected to provide high quality in all our operations and business. We trust that our operating licence, our business sustainability and the continued fulfilment of our vision depend on our capacity to inspire credence and earn the trust of all our clients. We, therefore, must act responsibly, forming long-term, viable value and assisting in their future success. We use our commitment to our code of conduct, and associated partnership between the Law Firm and like-minded partners within East Africa, to help shape our approach.

The concepts that are integral to right legal practice are embedded in our company profile. We detail our mission, vision, and core values together with our operational objectives. For instance, we align our operations to contribute towards a number of sustainable development goals, focusing on those areas where we can make the greatest contribution, and we intend to continue to do so through to the future.
